

The California Fires....

Not to worry if you are planning a trip to the Wine Road.

Although there are horrible fires burning throughout California, we have been very minimally impacted here.

For those of us in northern Sonoma County, the closest fires are in Mendocino County, which is about 75 miles away.

We've heard from guests in other parts of California who say they can hardly see to drive and there are other California communities that have been warned to avoid being outside. That is NOT the case here along the Wine Road in Sonoma County.

It is tragic what is happening in other areas of the state. We are fortunately experiencing none of those issues.

If you are planning a trip to the Wine Road, all of our wineries and lodgings are open and looking forward to meeting you!
